DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claims 1-3, 6, 9 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention.

The limitation "writes said frame to a memory location shifted from a top of the next available memory location" is not disclosed in the specification.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

4. Claim 1 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being unpatentable over Williams et al (U.S Patent No 6,144,699).

Regarding claim 1, Williams discloses a frame-relay processing device for reassembling a frame-relay frame into an ATM cells, wherein the device received a frame-relay frame and writes the frame to an available memory location from the beginning of the queue from the left or tail (shifted from a top of the next available memory location) in a queue as an first in first out manner, FIFO, col.9 line 44 and col.12 lines 40-45, (frame buffer), figures 10, 11 and 12, col.10 lines 50-60. Note that when new frame coming to the queue from the tail (top), old frames stored in the queue shifted out to the left locations so that the queue system can perform first in first out manner.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

5. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

6. Claims 2-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Williams et al (U.S Patent No 6,144,699) in the view of Nakabayashi (U.S Patent No. 6,301,259 B1).

Regarding claims 2, 3, 6 and 9, Williams discloses a frame-relay frame transmission circuit for reassembling a frame-relay frame into an asynchronous transfer mode cell, col.8 lines 1-10, comprising:

processor 82' (frame receiver) for receiving a frame through connection, figure 12;

a queue 86 (memory) for storing a receiving frame at a location from the tail (shifted from the top of the next available memory location) of the queue (frame buffer), col.12 lines 40-45; and a segmentation and reassembling device for reassembling the frame into said ATM cell, col.11 lines 5-25. William does not disclose that location of frame is stored in the queue according to the size of the data frame. However, Nakabayashi discloses that a link list pointer having location address of buffer used for storing a packet associated with the packet's size, col.4 lines 15-30 and col.8 lines 25-35. Therefore, it would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art to have the feature of shifting the queue location for storing the frame according to the size of the frame so that the queuing system can avoid overloading of data frames in the queue.

Regarding claims 4, 7 and 10, Williams discloses a storing of address and path identification (DLCI) for read and writes into the memory, col.5 lines 53.

Regarding claims 5, 8 and 11, Williams discloses a received frame is transmitted to FIFO queue for direct accessing (direct memory access), col.5 lines 45-55, figure 12.

Conclusion

7. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
